Welcome to a new club year! We are so excited for what's to come

Hey there! My name is Abby and I'm the president for the 2024-2025 Club Year. I'm so thrilled for this upcoming year and everything we have in the works. The Laughlin XL Spouses' Club has a mission to bring spouses together where we may otherwise feel alone. We volunteer our time to create events and opportunities for military spouses, while also donating to our local community and other base events. The Spouse Club operates the Thrift Shop and those proceeds go towards scholarships we grant in the spring to graduating seniors and fellow spouses continuing their education. The Spouse Club has opened my eyes to all facets of the Air Force and everyone's individual experiences. Military spouses are strong, resilient, and impactful. Together, we can make a difference.

A note about being a military spouse...

by Danielle Lawicki

“The biggest challenge as a military spouse is finding the courage to start over in every location. You have to put yourself out there and find the people that you connect with just to leave them or them leave you in a short period of time. That is the beauty of those relationships though, you create fast bonds that last a lifetime! I know that I have a support system around the world that root for me and my family.

Military members sign the dotted line and put their entire lives in someone else’s hands, that is the greatest risk you can take. They have to be brave enough to follow their dreams. Then you have the family that follows along. We don’t hesitate to make a home every few years across the world, sometimes without our significant other. The amount that military families sacrifice is immense, but oh so rewarding! We get to see places that most people never could. The word resilient is always used to describe the people who live this life, but we couldn’t move through this and grow without the support we receive from one another. This community is truly the family you choose and we are blessed with many in various locations.
